

IVYPREP ADMISSIONS CONSULTING TEAMS

for U.S. Universities

IvyPrep Admissions Consulting Team One

Alexander Nehmzow IvyPrep Consultant B.A., Yale University	A graduate from Yale University, Alexander received his degree in History, with Distinction in the major. His education at Yale focused on writing-intensive coursework, culminating in a senior thesis, that impressed upon him the importance of communication and critical thinking. At Yale, besides academic coursework, he took writing workshops in narrative non-fiction and fiction and contributed to student publications. Now as a university admissions consultant at IvyPrep, he hopes to translate his love of writing into helping students with their college applications. He enjoys helping his students reflect on their own strengths, idiosyncrasies, values, and long-term goals, and articulate these in their essays.
Ian Cash IvyPrep Consultant B.A., Johns Hopkins University M.A., SOAS, University of London Former Admissions Evaluator at Johns Hopkins University	While a student at Johns Hopkins University, Ian honed his talents as a writer, graduating with distinction with degrees in both History and Political Science. During this time, Ian also began his involvement with the admissions department. Over the course of the following three years, Ian conducted tours, created new admissions programmes, interviewed prospective students, and read their applications. After leaving Hopkins, Ian went on to earn a Masters degree in history from SOAS, University of London, where he gained an intimate familiarity with the British system of higher education, and subsequently arrived in Singapore, where over the past four admissions cycles he has successfully guided many students to acceptance at well-known universities on both sides of the Atlantic.

IvyPrep Admissions Consulting Team Two

Sim Ping Khuan IvyPrep Consultant B.A., Dartmouth College Former Admissions Interviewer (Singapore) for Dartmouth College	One of Singapore's most successful and experienced admissions specialists for U.S. undergrad institutions, Mr. Sim possesses clear, unique insights into the Singapore education system and the U.S. university admissions landscape. A graduate of Dartmouth College, he formerly served as the head Singapore interviewer for his university. Mr. Sim also has significant professional experience in writing and editing. Prior to joining IvyPrep, he worked at a U.S. law firm as an international trade consultant, worked as a financial journalist at two leading international news agencies, and served at his university newspaper as a senior writer and editor. He is a former alumnus of both Raffles Institution and Hwa Chong Institution, and he completed his postgraduate studies in management from Stanford University's Graduate School of Business.
Heather Hagerling IvyPrep Consultant B.A., University of Chicago	Heather received her degree from the University of Chicago, graduating Phi Beta Kappa with general and departmental honors. At UChicago, she took courses in creative and persuasive writing, and went on to write a senior thesis as well as an article published in the African Journal of Ecology. Upon graduating, Heather moved to Beijing, where she helped students improve their writing and contributed to an English textbook. Now, at IvyPrep, Heather is passionate about helping her students craft strong essays that showcase their unique strengths to college admissions officers.
